Above referenced Automatic Slack Adjusters require the use of a Clevis with a 1.3" pin center distance. DO NOT attempt to install a Gunite 2000 Automatic Slack Adjuster using a Gunite standard (1.02" pin center distance) collar lock or threaded clevis kit, as this will cause improper brake function.
